

L. M. HIGH PRIMED FOR BERWYN TILT

Large Crowd Expected to See
Test of Green Team
Today.

MAY WIN—BUT SCORE?

Lower Merion High School's opening football game with Berwyn on the home field at Ardmore today looms as an important fray. It will be the first time that the new combination worked out by lower Merion coaches from a nucleus of four lettermen will be on display and local football fandom which is deeply interested in the first test, is expected to turn out in large numbers.

Lower Merion has a long winning streak extending over a period of four years attached to its gridiron record. Maroon and White rooters will be interested in observing the manner in which the new eleven gives promise of upholding this streak.

Berwyn has five lettermen on its team but is not expected to furnish very serious opposition. Lower Merion has won the opening contest habitually in past years and despite its green team no one looks to it to lose that habit this afternoon. The test of Lower Merion's future on the gridiron, however, will rest upon the score with which it vanquishes

QUIETER THE BETTER

The opening guns locally for the fall political campaign will be fired when the Republican Association Merion and Narberth will hold its first fall meeting at Gladwyne. They will not be very loud, however, and little excitement is expected to follow.

This is indicated by the fact that stress is laid upon the social part of first opportunity for the members to get together after summer vacations and will take the form of a picnic and a "corn boil." The affair will be held near Gladwyne Hall to which the stalwarts will adjourn in case of rain.

The Johnson county organization, of which the Lower Merion and Narberth Association is a part, will "go along" with the entire Republican ticket nominated at the May primaries, despite the fact that Congressman Vare, whom this organization fought in the primaries heads that ticket as the Senatorial nominee. It is a rule of the game that the decision of the primaries be accepted and there will be no deviation from that rule among the regulars here.

Little Other Action.

A resolution formally endorsing the ticket nominated by the party at the primary will likely be approved by the association and the usual word will be passed among the regulars for the support of that ticket. Other than that there is little action anticipated. It is generally believed that the quieter the campaign the better.

Though there has been a decrease in the anti-Vare feeling prevalent among the Lower Merion and Narberth electorate last spring, there are still some among the semi-independent element who declare they will cut Vare in the November election. In spite of the votes, usually Republican which this may give the Democrats, political leaders here do not believe that the Democratic State organization will be strong enough to elect former Secretary Wilson.

Dr. George A. Sloan, Mr. A. J. Newell and Mr. Jesse S. Harris attended the outing of the Philadelphia Optimists' Club at the Philmont Country Club Tuesday.

SCHOOL BOARD HOLDS FIRST FALL MEETING AND REDUCES BONDED DEBT

The first meeting of the Narberth School Board for the current school year was held Monday night. Financial matters and reports of the progress made in school matters during the summer and since the opening of school were the features of the meeting.

Of considerable importance was the action of the Board in retiring bonds to the amount of $14,000. Of this amount $10,000 is of the series of 1916 and $4,000 of the series of 1906.

These payments reduce the bonded indebtedness of the school district to only $48,000, an unusually small amount compared with the value of the school property—$232,000 by expert appraisal. This healthy financial condition is particularly pleasing to the board when it is accompanied by a very high scholastic level.

The four upper grades of the high school are now attending Lower Merion, where complete facilities are available, and where growth is being provided for by the construction of a wing to the main building. The removal of the ninth grade has released needed space, with the result that the schools find all present needs well taken care of.

Reports of various phases of the school work were received, parts of which follow:

Household Arts Department.

Another change in the arrangement of the school plant is the removal of the Household Arts Department to the first floor where it is housed in a room devoted entirely to these subjects. The board plans to make further change in this room during Institute Week. At that time the woodwork will be thoroughly cleaned and repainted in white enamel paint. A serving table and chairs will be added to the equipment.

16,264 Voters Eligible for Fall Election in Township and Borough

South Ardmore, With 1650,
Is Again Largest District

WOMEN LEAD IN EIGHT

A total of 16,264 persons are eligible to vote in the 16 districts of Lower Merion and Narberth in the fall election on November 2. This is according to the official list of voters compiled in Norristown and announced there last week by County Clerk Harry S. Shainline.

In all Montgomery county, there are 117,797 eligible to vote. This is an increase of 4,074 over the registration of 1925. Many of these names were added on August 31 and September 1, when the assessors last sat at the various polling places to make additions and corrections to their lists.

West Ardmore Advances.

In many of the districts, the women voters outnumber the men. The boroughs particularly, with 29,091 women to 28,358 men, have a feminine complex. In the townships and in the county as a whole, however, the male voters are still in the lead by a narrow margin. There are 59,568 men eligible to vote in the whole county as compared to 58,229 women.

Lower Merion, with 13,641 votes enrolled has one of the largest registration lists in the county. It is exceeded only by Norristown, which has 15,908 eligible. Lower Merion and Narberth, however, are usually close together on issues of county importance and when Narberth's total of 2623 is added, the general Lower Merion-Narberth section is given a total which beats Norristown by 500.

West Ardmore, which was third in the last registration, has moved up to second place with 1609 and Cynwyd, formerly second has dropped to third place with a total of 1584. Merion is again fourth with 1495 eligibles.

In Narberth Borough, the women this year again lead the men. They are ahead in every one of the three election districts of the borough.

In Lower Merion the registry lists have more of a masculine complexion. Women lead in only five of the 13 districts there. They are most predominant in Cynwyd, where they are ahead by 150. In Haverford they lead by 124, in Merion by 15, in Bala by 14 and in East Bryn Mawr by 1.

The enrollment gives a theoretical basis for the computation of votes in the elections, but it is seldom that the districts give actual votes according to their theoretical ratios. For instance, in the May primaries Norristown had a larger registration than Lower Merion, yet Lower Merion turned in 716 votes more for the county Republican organization ticket than the county seat did. Likewise, South Ardmore, the largest district here was third in the township results last spring. Cynwyd lead and North Ardmore was second.

ROTARY FOUNDER

Leads Round Table Discussion on Community Club Work.

Reverend George Emerson Barnes, of the Overbrook Presbyterian Church, one of the founders of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club, led the members of that organization at a round table discussion at their weekly luncheon Tuesday at the Cynwyd Club. The part which the club should take in community projects and suggestions as to a program for the coming year were taken up. Joseph J. Skelton, Jr., presided as chairman.

President Alvin E. Shuli, Secretary Robert J. Boyd and James E. Carroll were absent as they were delegates to the Fiftieth District Rotary conference being held in Atlantic City.

MRS. MARY I. HAINES

Mrs. Mary I. Haines, of 308 S. Narberth avenue, passed away at her home Tuesday evening, of this week. She was 65 years of age. Her death followed a lingering illness.

Mrs. Haines had been a resident of Narberth for more than 12 years, formerly residing on Essex avenue. She was born in Delaware, February 5, 1861, the daughter of William and Hetty P. Haines.

She is survived by three children, Florence P. Haines, Mrs. Howard Hager, of Gulph road, and Mr. Arthur Haines, of Long Beach, Calif.

WOULDN'T TALK

Wednesday, while walking along Wynnmedale road, Officer Emil Piquet spotted a foreigner in working clothes wandering about. Upon being questioned as to his business and reason for being there the cop was told to mind his own business.

Piquet did, and the man, who gave his name as Frank Pace, soon heard the door of the Ardmore lock-up slam behind him. A short rest in the "jug" soon brought forth a more courteous answer and an explanation of his identity, upon which he was released.

Schools with 3016 Pupils on Rolls Beat Previous Records

At the end of eight days of the new fall term, a total of 3016 pupils were reported enrolled in the nine Lower Merion public schools this week. This is one of the largest enrollments in the history of the township and is several hundred ahead of the figures for the same time last year.

A still larger registration is expected by the end of the month when children of many families still away on vacation will return. More pupils are being added every day at the different schools.

The heaviest enrollment, according to the figures in the offices of Superintendent Downs is at the Ardmore avenue, Ardmore, gram-

HAS LOANED $181,000.00

The Narberth American Legion Building and Loan Association will open its sixteenth series of stock on Tuesday evening, October 5, 1926, at the meeting place of the association, Narberth Coal Company, corner Haverford and Narberth avenues.

This association is not restricted to members of the American Legion, but is open to everybody.

The growth of the association made it necessary to seek more adequate quarters and, at the invitation of one of the directors, the association, several months ago, changed its meeting place to a more prominent location—the office of the Narberth Coal Company.

The association has helped the financing of 57 homes and loaned the stockholders a total sum of $181,000 on first and second mortgages.

The stockholders who have paid in their money to the association for investment may borrow up to 90 per cent of the amount paid in at any time and pay six per cent. interest and earn on their money eight per cent. or better. It has been the means of helping to tide over many a tight period for a great many stockholders.

New shares of stock may be taken out at the Merion Title and Trust Company through Director Fowler, the Narberth National Bank through Director McCrery or through Director Dunne at the office of the association.

The officers and directors of the association are as follows: President, Clarence T. Faries, M. D.; vice president, A. C. Shand, Jr.; treasurer, Horace T. Smedley; secretary, Harry A. Simpson; solicitor, Walter M. Burkhardt, Esq.; Edward Davis, Maurice B. duMarais, Ralph S. Dunne, William Fowler, Harry Jacobs, Carl B. Metzger, I. A. Miller, John A. Mowrer, Jr., E. C. ROBERT SNYDER

Robert Snyder, of 313 Woodside avenue, died suddenly at his home last Sunday evening from the effects of a heart attack. He was 75 years of age.

Mr. Snyder, who had been associated with the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, was one of Narberth's best known and best loved figures. Vigorous in spite of his years, he was possessed of a keen sense of humor and the faculty of making and keeping a host of friends.

His death came as a shock to the community, for he had been active and apparently well but a few days before. He is survived by his wife.

Mr. Snyder was born in Philadelphia, July 23, 1851, the son of Francis D. and Catharine M. Snyder. He had been a resident of Narberth for many years.

Funeral services were held from his late residence Wednesday, and interment was made at West Laurel Hill Cemetery.

DAYLIGHT SAVING ENDS

Daylight saving time officially ends at 2 A. M. Sunday. Clocks which were advanced on April 25 should be stopped for an hour.

Last April employers received many excuses for lateness the Monday morning following the adoption of the summer time; but it is extremely doubtful if anyone will show up an hour early for work next Monday morning because he forgot to change his watch.

PROMINENT CLERGY AT FUNERAL OF PASTOR

Rev. Richard F. Cowley Laid to Rest
Last Friday.

The funeral on Friday morning, September 17, 1926, of Rev. Richard F. Cowley, founder of St. Margaret's Parish, and its pastor for more than twenty-five years, was among the most impressive obsequies ever held in this section.

On the preceding Thursday afternoon the remains of the late priest were carried from the rectory to the Church, attended by a procession of the school children and many of the parishioners. A catafalque had been erected in the Church and the body, clothed in sacerdotal vestments, with the hands clasping the chalice of Sacrifice, lay in state until the conclusion of the ceremonies on Friday morning.

Immediately on its arrival in the Church, vigil guards, composed of the men of the parish, changing hourly, kept watch at the bier all through the night to the dawn and until the casket was finally sealed for its journey to the grave.

The Solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. Francis Aidan Brady, with Rev. James P. McCloskey as deacon, and Rev. John C. Carey as sub-deacon, all classmates of Father Cowley at the Overbrook Seminary and all ordained for the priesthood on the same day that he received his Holy Orders. Rev. Vincent L. Burns was Master of Ceremonies, assisted by Rev. Raymond J. O'Donnell.

Previous to the Mass the Divine Office was chanted by Cardinal Dougherty and the numerous monsignori and priests who were present. The final blessing of the body was given by the Cardinal and the Benedictus was said by a number of the clergy as interment was made in Holy Cross Cemetery.

No sermon was preached, in accordance with Father Cowley's death-bed request, but eulogy was on the lips of the numerous mourners who were present and who had been the recipients of his bounteous service.

The Priests' Choir, under the direction of Rev. William B. Kane, sang the music of the Mass and furnished a devotional program of exquisite beauty and simplicity.

In addition to those mentioned, the following clergy were present: Rev. Joseph M. McShain, Joseph P. Dever, Very Rev. P. F. Quinn, S. M.; Joseph L. N. Wolfe, Daniel L. McGinlay, John F. Kiernan, Francis J. Markee, Luke V. McCabe, D. D., LL. D.; the Rt. Rev. James A. Muller, Rt. Rev. M. C. Donovan, Rt. Rev. Monsignor Charles F. Kavanagh, Eugene Murphy, the Very Rev. Joseph M. NEW PASTOR FOR ST. MARGARET'S

Rev. Robert F. Hayes, from Coaldale, Pa., Is Transferred.

HAS SPLENDID RECORD

Rev. Robert F. Hayes, for 15 years rector of St. Mary's Church at Coaldale, Pa., has been appointed rector of St. Margaret's at Narberth and is now installed in his new pastorate.

Father Hayes was born in Phoenixville and attended St. Joseph's College in Philadelphia. He was trained for the priesthood at Overbrook Seminary and was ordained by Archbishop Prendergast on May 31, 1905. His first mission was at St. Bernard's in Easton, where he spent five years, and in June, 1911, he was made assistant rector of St. Mary's at Coaldale. In November of the same year he was made pastor of St. Mary's and is credited with achievements of a high order, which are said to include elementary and high school facilities of an advanced type, together with a day nursery and other facilities which would improve the conditions of the industrial community in which he was ministering.

The sister of Father Hayes, known in the order of the Immaculate Heart as Mother Immaculata, was recently appointed superior of St. John the Baptist's Convent in Manayunk.

Y. M. C. A. TO ERECT COSTLY NEW HOME

Citizens' Committee Will Run
Drive for Funds to Start
Soon.

BUILDING IN SPRING

The Main Line Y. M. C. A. next spring will start to build a new million-dollar home, which is to be located on Anderson avenue, Ardmore, near Montgomery. Announcement of this was made Tuesday night at the meeting of the Ardmore Chamber of Commerce by George Mahl, secretary of the "Y," who declared that a campaign for funds will soon be put under way. The present headquarters of the Main Line branch is in an old building on East Lancaster avenue, Ardmore.

The new home of the Y. M. C. A. will be four stories high and will be of brick and stone. It will be constructed in a style which will harmonize with the building of the Ardmore Presbyterian Church, located on one of the opposite corners of the street.

There will be two swimming pools, one for men and boys and one for women and girls. Among the many other improvements there will be a cafeteria, a bowling alley and a gymnasium.

A committee of prominent residents is being organized to handle the campaign for funds.

KIRK—SINGER

A very pretty September wedding was that of Miss Emily Cady Singer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Park Singer, of St. Davids, and Mr. Donald Taylor Kirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kirk, Jr., of Narberth, Pa., which took place at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, September 18, at the home of the bride, 413 East Lancaster avenue, St. Davids. The Rev. Charles Schall, D. D., pastor of the Wayne Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Miss Marjorie Ruth Singer, her sister, as maid of honor. Mr. Alan Kirk, brother of the groom, served as best man. The wedding march was played by Miss Marian Roberts, of Chevy Chase, Md.

Owing to the recent death of the bride's grandmother, only the immediate families were witnesses of the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirk will be at home upon their return from their honeymoon in Canada, at the Bellevue Apartments, Cricket avenue, Ardmore.

OUR SCHOOLS

When, in the fall of 1922, the voters of Narberth were requested by the School Board to pass a loan of $165,000 to construct a new building to meet the crowding problem, the town was split into two bitterly opposed camps.

The board led the group which felt that Narberth should maintain its own schools without outside connections. The new building would complete the local plant.

The opposition claimed that the high school should be done away with, and that Lower Merion should be requested to take over that part of our educational system.

By an overwhelming vote of 812 to 190 the taxpayers defeated the loan, and forced the School Board, then against its will, to enter into an agreement with the township. Despite the bitter defeat of their plans the board went into the new arrangement with a desire to solve the problems.

Today we have 187 students in the Lower Merion High School. They are obtaining a splendid education. They are prominent in athletics and class activities. They are proud of their school.

And at the same time our local plant, so crowded four years ago, is now large enough for all needs. A splendid library has been assembled; a manual training course inaugurated; the domestic arts department has been enlarged.

And in another part of this issue we read that the bonded indebtedness now represents but one-fifth of the value of the school property, and that this is rapidly being reduced. The tax millage is being kept down, and a healthy financial condition is assured.

Certainly in the face of the staggering debts carried by many other school districts; of mounting municipal costs; of the terrific financial load being carried by the borough government, it is pleasing to note this healthy condition of our schools.

The importance of good schools is known to all—that is the result of capable leadership, good teachers, and adequate equipment—but the importance of a conservative and successful financial policy is well worth mention.

THE PASSING OF A PIONEER

With the passing of Father Cowley something has gone out of the life of the community which has meant very much to it and which it will be difficult to restore.

More than twenty-five years ago he came here to establish a Catholic parish, and he continued in its charge until his death a week ago.

From the very beginning his gentle, kindly, unassuming way had its influence on all those with whom he came in contact, and, as through the years he went about in the work of his parish, it was inevitable that such a good man should come to be held high in the esteem and regard of all his neighbors.

With him it was always evident that his priestly duties had first claim on all his time and energy, and the great affection which his parishioners had for him made it plain that he fulfilled in every way the exacting conception of what a spiritual guide should be.

Religion is indispensable, even if it sometimes appears to be difficult of promulgation, but its way is made easier and its scope more beneficent when those who are called upon to lead its hosts are worthy of their exalted task, when they are capable of the self-sacrificing efforts and broad charity which must accompany Christian progress, and the impressive results of Father Cowley's life-work afford ample evidence that he indeed possessed, in a pre-eminent manner, these most essential and exemplary qualities.

His death is truly a grievous loss.

HERE AND HEREABOUTS

In living the full Biblical span of three-score-and-ten, Father Cowley gave evidence of the value of intensive spiritual energy in carrying a man through his days, as hardly any other single reason can account for the manner in which he defeated the numerous predictions made for his demise during his early manhood. Several times during the course of his seminary studies at Overbrook he was obliged to discontinue through illness, and those who recall the day say it was a Levite poor indeed in health on whom the Holy Orders descended. Nevertheless, he at once sought and secured missionary assignments and the kind of priestly service he rendered in his various charges resulted in his appointment as a pastor within nine years after his ordination. Probably the hardest task which can come to a Catholic priest is to be called upon to start a parish in an outlying country district, where the communicants are few and where the duties involve day and night ministrations over a widespread territory. Such charges call for the very best a man has to offer and prime health would seem to be one of the first requisites. Father Cowley never had this, and so it must have been that his great zeal for spreading the Gospel, and his almost total self-abnegation where his work was concerned, were sufficient to offset his physical handicaps and to bring his life work to splendid fruition.

Then, too, it should be said that he was extraordinarily fortunate in his household arrangements, as no rectory in the Archdiocese had more of the charm of a true home than that which existed in St. Margaret's. For long years Father Cowley had been a close friend of the Morris family in North Philadelphia, and as his circumstances resolved, and as it was known that his state of health could not brook the kind of service and the goings and comings which may usually be expected where outside help is depended on, the Misses Morris came to the rescue, and with a skill and devotion which it is impossible to describe adequately, Father Cowley was afforded the kind of attention which only finds its parallel in the fond regard that faithful daughters constantly exercise for a beloved father. The presence and guidance in the priest's household of these effective women provided just that leavening and life-saving influence which his fine, sensitive nature and meagre strength required, and under their sway the rectory, frequently a stern and rigorous sort of place, became a kindly haven and an abode of warm and beneficent hospitality. Such an environment was a veritable God-send to the aging pastor, and to those who knew the situation well, there is no doubt that these good ladies, offering their services in a notable Christian spirit, may be happy in the conviction that their love and care and solicitude added years to Father Cowley's life and that they have had a full share in the good works which he spread all about him.

They were not sure—
When you were young—
That you could breast—
The fray of souls—
The field of Armageddon—
Where strong men fail—
In quick disorderly peril—
Whilst you were frail.

The current tax bills carry a very profitable reminder about the county toll and it will probably save a good many of us from extra penalties and perhaps a visit of the Sheriff's deputy. The township has also been including this item in its bills for the last few years, and we should be glad that Narberth has followed suit. The borough also profits directly from the procedure because the county wants its tribute a fortnight sooner than is the case at home, and many folks probably pay the entire bill at the time appointed for the county item. Maybe this cute little thing had somewhat to do with the inclusion of the county tax in the local bills, and whilst diligence is always commendable in civic matters, as well as in everything else, the fact remains that no effort should be made to take discretion away from the taxpayer, even by what may seem a harmless gesture, and possibly it would be better if the county taxes were listed on a detachable part of the bill, to facilitate, if need be, the payment of the various items at the times when they are due under the law. It would be quite proper, and no doubt advisable, when the borough always needs money just as soon as it can possibly get it, to suggest the extra service which advance payment of taxes will provide, and the numerous advertising experts who abound in these parts will agree that this could be done to very great advantage. There is no reason at all why public business should be handled in humdrum or dry-as-dust fashion, but there is ample reason why such business must proceed with punctilious regard for the law and the discretion and rights which exist under the statute for the benefit of the citizen. No endeavor should ever be made, even by the use of an awkwardly printed bill, which will fail to reveal in unmistakable manner the actual and plain facts of the case, irrespective of how little experience one may have in this inevitable feature of modern existence.

The taxes they are higher
Than they ever were before,
But without George Suplee
They'd be a darn sight more.

And if there's room to say a little more, some comment ought to be made about the bewildering noise which is affecting life in Narberth and driving quite too many of our people away to more secluded sections. The chief source of annoyance, of course, lies in the insolent use of automobile horns, when drivers, apparently oblivious to the fact that their cars can be slackened in their speed, must bellow and screech their way across all intersections, and not content with that, to play a tattoo on their strident sirens as they pursue their impudent way. In many parts of the borough the nuisance has attained intolerable proportions and a plea should go out to ask automobile operators to be at least somewhat mindful of the rights of others to comparative peace and quiet and to only use the horn when it is necessary to use it, which would amount to about 10 per cent. of the time presently employed. Along they come, the squak-squak of the fiver, the exhaust-yelps of the truck, the raucous note of the alleged fine car, the pibroch agony of the affrighted tyro, all blowing their passage through, all disregarding of ordinary decency, a fierce display of atrocious manners and rankly selfish procedure. In Philadelphia this summer the same kind of complaint was registered about conditions in the central section and some decided progress is said to have been made. At any rate, the new city taxi is equipped with a different kind of horn and the instructions are to only use it when altogether necessary. The contribution which those who recognize the extent of the evil can make to the general cause is to insist on having their new cars bedecked with horns which lack the harshness and shrill of most present-day equipment, something of softer fibre, less discordant, more mellifluous, more resonant, if you know what I mean, and certainly more polite. And instead of plastering the back glass with an anatomical display of a bounding bathing beauty, or a highly bromidial slogan, let the injunction "Silence" filter its saving way through the tempestuous and tormented traffic.

When men come to suburbs,
To the place to dwell,
In a few days are hectic
And their nights are merry Hell.

DOCTOR'S FATHER DIES

Dr. and Mrs. O. J. Snyder with their daughter, Honora, and son, Jimmie, returned on Tuesday from the doctor's old home in Bellevue, Kentucky, where they were summoned last week on account of the death of the doctor's father, Joseph N. Snyder.

Mr. Snyder was a veteran of the Civil War and was well known to some of the citizens of Narberth, having visited here a number of times and on one occasion joined with the American Legion in their Memorial Day services. Had he lived until February 22, he would have reached the splendid age of 89. He was carried to the grave by his six sons flanked by five grand army men, all that remain of Mr. Snyder's Grand Army Post out of an original number of 86.

FALL ACTIVITIES BEGIN AT MAIN LINE Y. M. C. A.

Swimming Pool to Be Heated During Winter.

After an active summer, during which the activities were well attended, the Ardmore Y. M. C. A. is turning its attention to its fall and winter program. A varied schedule of events has already been arranged. A number of gymnasium classes are being organized. The business men's volleyball group will meet on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday, 12.30 P. M. to 1.30 P. M.

Other men's classes will be conducted on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday at 5.15 P. M. and at 7.30 P. M. The boys' groups are scheduled for 3.30 P. M. on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday and on Saturday mornings. Older boys unable to attend during the day may enroll in the evening classes. Tuesdays and Fridays will be devoted to women and girls.

The FIRESIDE

The principal social activity of the week seemed to be listening to the Dempsey-Tunney fight over the radio.

At least, when our Fireside reporter called on various people on the phone Thursday night, she heard a radio going in each home, and was thus able to follow Tunney's victory in scattered installments.

The Narberth postoffice has a supply of Sesquicentennial stamped envelopes on hand for those who care to grace their mail with a memento of the well-known exposition.

The Ladies' Aid of the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church will meet on Tuesday evening, September 27, at 8.00 at the church.

Mr. Ralph E. Seaboldt, of North Narberth avenue, received a telegram at noon Tuesday from his daughter, Mrs. Andrew Lutz, of Miami, Fla., saying she was safe and sound. The telegram was dated Sunday.

Several members of the Main Line Choral, residents of Narberth, joined the chorus of 300 suburban choral singers who sang "The Fall of Babylon," in the Sesqui auditorium last Friday night.

Miss Dorothy L. Chalfant, of Chestnut avenue left on Monday for Litz, Pa., where she is teaching in Linden Hall. Linden Hall is one of America's oldest and best known schools for girls, having been founded in 1784. Miss Chalfant, a graduate of the Narberth High School and of Rutgers College, has charge of the Home Economics Department.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Brooks, of Narberth avenue, have returned from a stay at Atlantic City and Ocean City.

Mrs. J. S. Harris, of Merion avenue, is on a two weeks' motor trip with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hatfield.

Mrs. James K. McLaughlin, of Cedar Lane, was called home Saturday to Lawrence, Kansas, because of the serious illness of her mother, who died before her arrival.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Keegan, of Winchester road, are receiving congratulations upon the birth of twin boys, Robert J. Keegan, 4th, and Frank A. Keegan, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Thompson, Jr., of Avon road, are being congratulated on the birth of twin girls at the Bryn Mawr Hospital on Saturday, September 18. The girls are named Anne Federoff and Barbara Mildred.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Servis, of Hampden avenue, are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a son, Leonard Rene Servis.

Dr. and Mrs. E. Edward Wright, of Chestnut avenue, are being congratulated on the birth of a daughter, Teresa Tilly Wright.

BOWLING LEAGUE ELECTS

The Narberth Interchurch Bowling League met at the Baptist Church on Tuesday evening, September 21, and elected the following officers for the coming season:

William J. Bailey, president; Stewart B. Weiss, vice president; Charles C. Mason, treasurer; Hervey C. Keim, secretary.

The schedule of games for the first half of the season will be published in next week's issue of Our Town.

The captains of the seven teams have been requested to get all available bowlers together without delay. The new by-laws require that each captain register with the secretary the names of five members of his team on the night of the first game.

POTTED PRISONERS—SIX!

While it is rumored that the prohibition laws are not observed as religiously as they might be in the East, it is seldom that the Lower Merion police are troubled with drunks. It was therefore unusual when six men were picked up here Wednesday morning on a drinking and disorderly conduct charge.

Arraigned before Magistrate Kromer in the Ardmore station at a hearing in the afternoon, they were each fined $10 for the jag and assessed the customary $3.50 amusement tax in the form of Court costs.

PROBABLE LINE-UP

Centre—Miller, M.
Right Guard—Stewart.
Right Tackle—Abramson.
Quarterback—Litchfield.

LOWER MERION HIGH NEWS

The line-up for the game at this writing is not at all certain but that given above has been named by followers of the team as the most likely to taste first battle. No announcement of the men who will play will be made by the coaches until the last minute.

Scrimmage after scrimmage for the past two weeks has put the Merion team in the best of condition. Coach Adam assisted by Coaches Coronway and Davis has been working two large squads daily and the boys on any one of these may be called upon for duty in this game.

The probable men to report on the bench Saturday are Cook, Barclay, Jensen and Baker, ends; Purvis, Abramson, Scott and McGowan, tackles; Stewart, Purse, McEnry and Winters, guards; Mat Miller and Dohan, centers; Jack Miller, Mandes, Derham, Dothard and Smyth, halfbacks; Harris and Mowrey, fullback; Litchfield and Kohlhas, quarterbacks.

The band will be present for their first appearance of the season with a lot of snappy new pieces.

A. A. Drive.

Shortly after the opening of high school came the annual Athletic Association membership drive. The campaign was opened Monday morning.

Two rival teams led by Frank Houseman, captain of the Maroons, and Jack Miller, captain of the Whites, have been keenly vying for subscription honors. Nine committeemen support each captain and competition is rife amongst the student body.

The membership tickets sold to the students at special rates are as follows: Membership to the Athletic Association, fifty cents, which entitles the buyer to admission to all home games at half price on sight of ticket; sport ticket, which admits the buyer to the Athletic Association and all home games of sport named, one dollar; season ticket, which combines the Athletic Association membership and admittance to all sports events during the year, two dollars.

NARBERTH AND AUTOCAR IN FINAL GAME TODAY

Three-game Series Stands at Tie—Want Big Crowd.

The final game of the post-season series between Narberth and Autocar will be played at 3.15 this afternoon on the Narberth grounds.

Each team took one game over the past week-end. In the Saturday game at Narberth, the local warriors turned in a 3-0 victory over the Ardmore truck builders. The following day at Ardmore the tide was turned and a 6-5 score evened the series.

A large crowd is expected today at this last game of 1926. Either Babb or Verry Fleck will be on the mound for Narberth, with George Fleck catching. Autocar will depend on the pitching ability of either Hallas or Dougherty.

The box score of Narberth's victory last Saturday follows:

LIBRARY OPEN TWO MORNINGS A WEEK

New Hours are Tuesday and Thursday From 9-11.

Up to the present time, the Narberth Library has been open only in the afternoons from three o'clock to five, and on Friday evening from 7 to 9. This is all that it has been possible for the volunteer workers to do, especially as these hours of opening seem to have been sufficient for the service required.

Now, however, that many of the Narberth children who attend the Lower Merion schools are temporarily unable to be at the library during these hours, it has seemed necessary to open in the morning, and from the necessity has arisen the solution of the problem involved.

Hereafter, as long as the situation demands, Mrs. A. L. Horst, of North Narberth avenue, will be at the library on Tuesday and Thursday morning, from 9.30 to 11.00. Mrs. Horst will be assisted as the work requires by any of the regular afternoon workers.

Mrs. Horst has been a member of the staff for some time and has done valuable work in collecting material for the reference department, and since the departure of Mrs. James Donnelly who started the reference department and is mainly responsible for its present efficiency, has been in charge. They will continue this work while serving at the desk these new opening hours.

While these hours are intended primarily for the pupils in school, at the same time the library will be open to any member of the community who wishes to take advantage of its reading facilities, or of the opportunity to exchange a book.

NEW SCHEDULE

This week Our Town wishes to call the attention of its readers to the revised schedule of the Montgomery Bus Company, which is published in this issue.

It is suggested that the page on which the schedule appears be clipped and saved for future reference as it is the only time the schedule will be published in full.

Tariffs, schedules, zones and rates are also published for the first time.

SCHOOL BOARD HOLDS FIRST FALL MEETING

Although cooking and sewing for the girls has been a part of the prescribed curriculum for nearly 10 years, no provision has heretofore been made for any form of industrial or manual training for the boys.

To meet the constantly growing demand for this type of work the board has organized a manual training department and procured during the summer the equipment necessary for this phase of school work. Work benches of steel construction, sufficient to accommodate any of the boys' sections, fitted with the tools essential to woodworking, have been installed in the front room in the basement. Power saws, planers and a tool grinder, all of the newest type are included in the general equipment.

The program for both grades for the present year includes woodworking chiefly, but other types of industrial work will be carried on later in the course. This work is in charge of Benjamin Cook, recently instructor in manual arts in the Lebanon High School. Mr. Cook is a graduate of Girard College, Oswego (N. Y.) State Normal School and has supplemented this training by courses at Carnegie Institute.

The Library.

The passing of the ninth grade has released one of the larger rooms for library purposes. The new room is 32 feet long by 30 wide and affords ample space for the largest class as a study hall and reference library. New book stacks were built during the summer and new tables and chairs of standard library type have been installed. All other equipment needed for this work will be added as occasion demands.

There are nearly 3000 volumes in the library at the present time and new books are being constantly added. Periodicals and magazines suitable for junior high school pupils are kept on file and are accessible to the pupils during library periods.

Each of the eight sections of the school is assigned to four regular library periods weekly. The librarian, Mrs. Elsbree, is in charge during these periods to assist pupils in the use of reference works. Other periods are assigned to individual pupils. The departmental teachers are present for conference and help during part of these periods.

The Dispensary.

During the summer the room formerly used as a library has been fitted and furnished as a dispensary for treating cases requiring emergency aid. The woodwork has been newly painted and white enameled in a most attractive style.

The equipment includes the latest type of pedestal lavatory with hot and cold water supply, a physician's cabinet for first aid supplies and appliances, scales for weighing and measuring and comfortable cots for emergency cases requiring treatment.

The dispensary is equipped to treat all minor emergency cases. It is in charge of Ruby Kevorkian, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and recently assistant director of similar work at the Friends' Neighborhood Guild. Miss Kevorkian has general charge of the pupils' health during school hours and of the sanitary condition of the buildings.

School Notes.

All pupils in attendance the first week of school have been weighed and measured by Miss Church and Miss Kevorkian. This week, Dr. Hubbley and Miss Kevorkian are examining pupils for physical defects. As soon as the results of these examinations have been tabulated parents will be notified regarding the condition of their children.

The mid-morning milk service for grades one to four started this week. The enrollment of pupils by grades is as follows:

First Grade	66
Second Grade	68
Third Grade	68
Fourth Grade	69
Fifth Grade	60
Sixth Grade	66
Seventh Grade	62
Eighth Grade	52

Total 511

Girls' Hockey.

Hockey practice for the girls started this week. The removal of last year's eighth and ninth grades to Lower Merion leaves no one who has ever played on the team. Miss Church will, therefore, find it necessary to make up a team from entirely green material.

Sitchery will also interest many of the girls, some of whom got a taste of this sport last spring.

A new game, paddle tennis, will be introduced to the girls of the school during the coming week. This game is endorsed by the National Association of Physical Directors. It can be played indoors and has the advantage of occupying less space than either lawn tennis or court tennis.

Under the direction of Mr. Cook, soccer practice has held the attention of the boys during the week. The soccer team loses from the transfer of the upper grades practically every boy who made the team last year. This team, like the girls' hockey team, will have to be made up largely from green material.

Mrs. Edward S. Haws, of Dudley avenue, accompanied by her sister and brother-in-law, is on a two weeks' tour through New England and Canada.

Announcement

AFTER twelve years at our present address, we are laying plans for a change of location which will be of greater convenience to us, and of greater service to our many friends.

Within three weeks we will remove from 246-48 Haverford Avenue to larger and more modern quarters—our own building, now in course of construction at the rear of 111 Forest Avenue.

There we will have a two-story building, with a large office, a new shop with added machinery, capacity for 4 cars and trucks, facilities to take care of your every need.

For fourteen years we have been building a reputation for unfailingly good work, fair prices and honest treatment in the execution of Roofing, Sheet Metal Work, Heaters and Ranges, Spouting, Gutters, etc.

Announcement will be made shortly of the date of our removal to the larger quarters.
